Dear Judge Bernstein and Chambers:

We write in reference to In re Breitbart Energy Partners LP et al., Ch. 11 Case No. 16-11390. In accordance with paragraph 28 of the case management order (ECF No. 146), the Debtors have agreed to an extension of the deadline to object to the DIP motion to July 8, 2016 for the Creditors' Committee, XTO, and Exxon. The objection deadline is otherwise set for July 5, 2016. The Debtors hereby request that the Court approve this extension.

Very truly yours,
Scott R. Bowling

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 1, 1861. It is a formal communication, and it is written in a very formal and dignified style. The President expresses his regret that he cannot deliver the message in person, and he asks the Congress to excuse his absence. He then proceeds to discuss the state of the Union, and he mentions the recent election of Abraham Lincoln as President. He also mentions the secession of the Southern States, and he expresses his hope that the Union will be preserved.

[illegible]

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to determine the nature of the problem. This involves a thorough understanding of the situation and the factors that may be contributing to the problem. Once the nature of the problem is understood, the next step is to identify the causes of the problem. This involves a detailed analysis of the situation and the factors that may be contributing to the problem. Once the causes of the problem are identified, the next step is to develop a plan of action. This involves determining the steps that need to be taken to address the problem and the resources that will be required to implement the plan. Finally, the last step in the process is to implement the plan and monitor the results. This involves putting the plan into action and tracking the progress of the implementation to ensure that the problem is being effectively addressed.
